

Where do Rainbow fish live?

They like to live in lots of different places that have fresh, clean water; like the water that we drink:

swamps

ivers

lakes

However, some rainbow fish live in salty water, where a river meets the sea. (This is called an 'estuary', but don't worry about trying to remember this word.)

